Using Available Resources strategically: One Important Step to Career Success

Thursday, October 23, 2014 • 5:00-6:30 pm • Room 208
School of Nursing, Carrington Hall

This seminar will include the following topics for pre-nursing and current nursing students:

Being in a university environment with many, many resources is a great gift; but— how to choose when to seek help and what help to seek through this maze of resources? This session will provide advice regarding using resources— and how they can help you reach your desired goals. Pointers for selecting the resources that are most likely to benefit you, and meet your needs, will also be presented. Using resources strategically is a critical skill for students to stay on track and meet their academic goals— So, don’t miss it!

This seminar is most appropriate for students considering nursing as a career path, and/or current nursing students who are in their first year. All students involved in the CaBB program are encouraged to attend. The session will incorporate real life stories and examples to enhance the experiences of future and current nursing students.

The CaBB project (Careers Beyond the Bedside) is a federally funded grant (HRSA Grant# D19HP24298) to increase diversity in the nursing workforce. The program targets students currently underrepresented in the nursing profession. This program seeks students from economically or educationally disadvantaged backgrounds, and/or historically underrepresented ethnic minority groups, “first-generation” college students, or students who currently reside in a medically underserved geographic area. Many of the benefits of the CaBB project are open to any pre-nursing/nursing student.
