

VISITING INTERNATIONAL SCHOLARS PROGRAM

The UNC School of Nursing welcomes dozens of visitors from around the globe through our Visiting International Scholars (VIS) program annually.

The VIS program offers nursing professionals in all stages of their careers a chance to be mentored by one of UNC's world-renowned faculty through an individualized study-plan suited to their professional goals.

VIS can be a graduate student, postdoc, practitioner, or a faculty member.

WHAT IS UNIQUE ABOUT OUR VIS PROGRAM?

- Visits vary in length, from a couple of months up to a year.
- VIS work with UNC faculty-Mentors.
- VIS will have the opportunity to audit up to two courses per semester to enhance their studies.

TO APPLY:

Please go to nursing.unc.edu/people and select potential faculty mentors, then fill out the application at nursing.unc.edu/VISprogram

For more information please contact us at songlobalhealth@unc.edu.

FROM A VISITING SCHOLAR:

"I have audited seven courses at the School of Nursing this year, and my instructors were friendly and treated me like a SON student. I felt included in the classes as a UNC student — I would discuss questions with my classmates, complete reading assignments, and give presentations on my work and ideas. My experience at SON was wonderful!"

Visiting International Scholar, Yajing Zhong

Visiting International Scholar Yajing Zhong visits Washington DC during her time in the VIS program.