

Management of Infectious Diseases

Instructor: Suja Davis

Length: 2 hours

Program Description: The focus of this live webinar course is to enhance the knowledge on common infectious diseases with a focus on clostridium difficile, Methicillin resistant staphylococcus aureus, vancomycin resistant enterococci, tuberculosis, chicken pox and shingles. Additionally, participants will learn about the management of patient care related to the each of these conditions.

Learning Objectives: At the end of this program, participants will be able to:

- Describe the general pathophysiology related to clostridium difficile, Methicillin resistant staphylococcus aureus, vancomycin resistant enterococci, tuberculosis, chicken pox and shingles
- Verbalize the signs and symptoms and mode of transmission of clostridium difficile, Methicillin resistant staphylococcus aureus, vancomycin resistant enterococci, tuberculosis, chicken pox and shingles
- Discuss the management (including the special precautions) of clostridium difficile, Methicillin resistant staphylococcus aureus, vancomycin resistant enterococci, tuberculosis, chicken pox and shingles
- Apply the knowledge gained from the webinar to unfold selected case studies that address common infectious diseases

Audience:

RNs and other healthcare professionals